Historical and Literary Context

The novel was written in the aftermath of World War II, a period marked by atrocities and the collapse of moral certainties. Golding's work reflects the disillusionment with the notion that civilization inherently civilizes human beings. His portrayal of boys devolving into savagery echoes contemporary concerns about war, violence, and the fragile veneer of societal order. The 1950s were also a time of social change, with debates about morality, authority, and human nature. Golding's The Lord of the Flies challenged optimistic views of human progress and highlighted the potential for chaos lurking beneath the surface of civilized life.

The novel contrasts the veneer of civilization with the primal instinct for survival and violence. The conch symbolizes societal order, but as it loses its power, chaos prevails, illustrating the fragile boundary between civilization and barbarism.

3. Loss of Innocence

The boys' transformation from innocent children into savage hunters underscores themes of innocence lost and the corrupting influence of power and fear.

4. The Struggle for Power and Authority

Jack's rebellion against Ralph's leadership signifies the human desire for dominance. The conflict highlights how authority can be manipulated and how power struggles can lead to chaos.
